The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,2 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dahl.

See Figure 2 and the description col.2, lines 31-52.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3,5,7,8,10-13 and 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dahl taken with Braxton' 836.

Dahl lacks a teaching of the use of a base and roof. '836 teaches a folded, hinged portable toilet employing a roof 14 and base 16. As both teach identical art devices it would have been prima facie obvious to employ the perfecting features of one in the environment of the other. As such, to provide Dahl with a base and roof of '836 or to provide '836 with the folding scheme of figure 2 of Dahl would have been prima facie obvious to the ordinary artisan. The claim 3 rivets are taught by '836 in col. 3, line 22.

Art Unit: 3751

For the reasons advanced it would have been obvious to provide the former with a commode 60 as taught by ' 836.

Claim 5 is objected to as lacking proper antecedent for "said base".

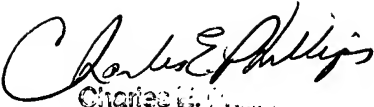

Claims 4,9,14 and 18 – 20 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected inventions, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper No. 3 and paper no. 5.

The traversal of the election of species requirement is noted. In rebuttal thereto, there is no burden on this office to point out which claims are readable on the respective species. Claims such as 6 are not deemed generic, as the structure of figure 6 is not capable of this configuration i.e. the thickness of the figure 6 structure includes the roof. It is well settled that the mere presence of species is the reason for the election and prima facie present a burden. Finally, the presence of an allowable generic claim will offer rejoinder and avert a separate filing. Accordingly the requirement is hereby made final.
